

SVEN HOLSCHER

BIOGRAPHY

Sven Holscher was born in Punta Arenas, Chile. He studied classical double bass and jazz bass at the University of Music and Performing Arts in Munich, Germany. During his studies he gained experience performing in different musical scenarios that go from symphony orchestras to contemporary jazz ensembles.

After taking private lessons with Andrés Rotmistrovsky and Willy González, Sven was able to find his own musical identity by refining his chord-melody technique on the bass. This and Sven's constant experimentation with sound design form his branding as an artist. His classes with Lila Horovitz and Juan Pablo Navarro completed his Tango skills on the double bass.

His current music projects are Eyarã and „Homo Ludens where the bass goes beyond its traditional sounds and experiments with new effects and textures. The „Berlin Baires Trio“ with the Grammy Award winner Quique Sinesi, the Tango Trio „Milonga Roots“ , the Latin Jazz Quintett Yacarandá and the South American Duo Angirû Project.
